THE PROTECTORATE ENDED.

Commissioner Blount Withdraws
Protection in Hawaii.

THE FLAG IS HAILED DOWN.

No Interference from Any Other Power
Will Be Tolerated.

There is Now Nothing Indicative of American Authority in Honolulu
Save Commissioner Blount and Minister Stevens.

HONOLULU, April 6, 1893.—The stars and stripes, which for two months have floated from the government building, have been hauled down and the remaining forces from the United States cruiser Boston sent aboard ship. Nothing indicative of American authority remains in Honolulu, save Minister Stevens and Commissioner Blount. The report of Commissioner Blount would order the flag down and the protectorate abolished about the night of March 31 and the preceding day, and the occurrence created among the American party a feeling of indignation, not altogether unmixed with surprise. This was due to the fact, perhaps, that Mr. Blount maintained a Chinese wall about the purposes of his mission and satisfied neither side as to whether he came as an envoy to investigate, or a minister to negotiate.

On the afternoon of March 31, Blount had a lengthy and secret conference with President Dole and his cabinet. The result of this conference was that the flag was hauled down and the protectorate abolished. It is understood that he gave a reason for this action, but the details of the conference did not reach the public. It was necessary, and further that it was incompatible with any diplomatic relations between the two countries. The United States, however, would brook no hostile interference in Hawaiian affairs by any foreign power.

Conscious of their strength in view of the latter assurance the provisional government, though somewhat reluctantly, acquiesced in the commissioners' decision and prepared to maintain that peace and quiet which has continued almost unbroken during the protectorate. On the morning of April 1, President Dole and his cabinet expected the troops and volunteer companies called out, making with regulars about 400 in all. The hour for hoisting down the American flag was fixed for 11 o'clock.

As early as 6 the streets began to fill and the white residents discussed not without some heat the unlooked for action of the American commissioner. At the palace square natives, Chinese, Japanese, half-breed, Portuguese and whites of all colors, came out to see the flag hauled down. On the faces of American residents were looks of chagrin, while the crowd of natives, Chinese and Japanese, were full of curiosity and interest.

Just before 11 the regular troops of the provisional government marched into the city. They were followed by volunteers. The Gatling guns and two Hotchkiss field pieces were placed in position to silence any demonstration and other troops were stationed about the city. Inside the government yard were President Dole and his cabinet, and other officials, officers of naval vessels in harbor, prominent residents and representatives of the press.

At 11 o'clock the flag was hauled down and the American emblem was hoisted in its place. Not a cheer, shout or salute accompanied the transformation. Troops were then stationed about the buildings and the flag was hoisted in its place. The flag was hoisted in its place. The flag was hoisted in its place.

The fact that the queen requested the people to instruct the natives to make no demonstrations, and that the queen remained a good deal of an American sympathizer, about the only public knowledge had of him here is contained in a letter from President Cleveland to President Dole, which says:

I made the choice of Mr. Blount as special commissioner to visit the Hawaiian islands and make report concerning the present state of affairs in that country. He is a well known and experienced man, and I have confidence in his ability to perform the duties of his office. He is a man of high character and ability, and I have confidence in his ability to perform the duties of his office.

Mr. Blount was introduced by Minister Stevens and presented his credentials from the president. Attorney-General Smith said that the Hawaiian government had no direct assurances beyond that the United States would allow no foreign interference here, the Hawaiian government was well satisfied with the manner of the commissioner and did not think their interests would suffer at his hands.

The chief danger apprehended here is of the Japanese. The day after the flag was hauled down a rumor was started that the queen anticipated the secret and would apply to the captain of the Japanese cruiser for protection against the provisional government and assistance to restore her to the throne. Minister Stevens, Commissioner Blount and Admiral Bessie consulted over the matter and it is stated that Japanese interference would be an act of hostility to the United States and be repelled.

No hostile demonstrations, however, were made by any party up to the present time. Officers of the Japanese cruiser called on Admiral Scherff a few days ago and assured him that no hostile intentions were entertained. Japanese Consul Fuzi denied the report that his government would interfere in Hawaiian affairs.

Commissioner Blount has been receiving much attention from Hawaiian residents, and is loaded down with expressions of good will. A delegation from the Association club presented an address setting forth the satisfaction of the association at the appointment of Blount, and expressing confidence that a most searching examination will disclose the fact that the present government was established as a matter of necessity and duty in order to preserve the Hawaiian people from the danger of being absorbed by the United States.

Commissioner Blount in replying, said: "You will very readily understand I can make no reply to this address. My negotiations will be conducted entirely with your government. I am pleased, however, to meet you."

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE.

Survivors Without Shelter or Food for Twenty-Four Hours.

In Several of the Stricken Towns All
Food Supplies Were Swept Away—
Loss of Life and Damage to Property in Michigan.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—Through two nights and days have passed since the cyclone tore through the small towns in the southwestern part of the state, reports of damage and loss of life are still coming in. The southwest part of the territory already heard from is a large stretch of country from which communication is slow and it is feared much further loss of life has taken place there. The casualties so far reported are as follows. At Hawkins Park, the dead are:

Mrs. ASHER, with baby in arms.
ANDREW LAY.
MRS. JAMES WILSON.
MRS. WILLIAM ASHER.

THE MICHIGAN CYCLONE
At Ypsilanti The Loss Reaches $100,000—
Other Towns Damaged.

DETROIT, Mich., April 13.—A wind and rain storm passed through the township of Royal park last night. Nearly everything in its path was leveled. The house of Christian Brick was demolished and took fire. Brick, his wife and children escaped, but his father and mother were burned to death.

A cyclone passed south of Milan last night. At Clarksville a house was blown down, a woman was killed and much damage done in the country.

A terrible wind storm passed over Dundee last night. At Dundee a house was blown down, a woman was killed and much damage done in the country.

There is no truth in the report that the village of Saline was wiped out by a cyclone. The city of Ypsilanti today is in a lamentable condition and business is suspended owing to the havoc caused by last night's storm. Almost all of the principal business blocks, stores, opera house, post office, hotels and several dwellings were either demolished or badly damaged.

Houses were lifted from their foundations, buildings unroofed and the walls tumbled into the streets a mass of ruins. In some places the debris is piled fifteen feet high. All day long the light and other wires were blown down and the city is in darkness. The heavy rain which followed the storm added largely to the damage of stocks of goods laid out.

There were many narrow escapes but so far as known no life was lost as a result of the storm. Roughly estimated the loss on business is between $100,000 and $150,000 divided up among a large number of persons. Somewhere near 150 dwellings and barns were destroyed, on which the loss is estimated at $30,000. The work of clearing up the streets was rushed as fast as possible all day and considerable debris is already removed.

A TOWN BLOWN AWAY.
Seventeen Persons are Killed and Over
One Hundred Wounded.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—It is hardly possible to exaggerate the havoc made by the cyclone and fire at Robinsonville. There are parts of two houses and the water tank still standing. Everything else was razed to the ground and most of them burned. The number of killed so far as ascertained by the bodies found is seventeen, one white and sixteen colored, and about ten more are injured, but so seriously that they are expected to die. Probably a hundred persons received injuries but none of them will die.

Trouble May Occur at Raton.
RATON, N. M., April 13.—General Manager Frey's ultimatum that strikers machinists should return to work today received little attention by the shop men of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe at this point and not one of them resumed work. If new men are brought in to fill the places trouble may occur.

Twenty-five Valuable Horses Killed.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 13.—The barn of Charles Reed, a prominent horseman in this state, at Gallatin, was struck by lightning last night. Twenty-five brood mares, in foal by the celebrated brood mare St. Blaise, were instantly killed. Loss over $100,000.

A Child Cremated Alive.
ASHLAND, Ore., April 13.—The residence of Charles E. White, near Woodville, this county, was burned at 5 o'clock this morning and Mr. White's little son, aged 9 years, was cremated and Mrs. White was seriously burned. It is supposed, in an effort to rescue her boy.
